Mrs Boswell's fun tooth decay experiment

As the dentists have possibly not been open during this lockdown period, we hope you have been looking after those teeth of yours. Have a go at setting up this fun experiment to see what some of our favourite liquids can do to our teeth! Remember to tweet some of your pictures @forbridge2013.

YOU WILL NEED:

Eggs	Jars
Coke	Water
Vinegar	Coffee

WHAT YOU NEED TO DO!

- Pour the same amount of liquid into each of your jars/containers
- Add a whole raw egg still in its shell to each container/jar
- Leave for approximately three days
- Remove the eggs from the liquids.
- Rinse the egg kept in vinegar and rub gently until the shell comes away.
- What has happened to each one of the eggs?
